II. Protection of Sensitive U. S. Intelligence Data, Sources and Methods.

2. Control on release of classified information to foreign governments, officials, and international bodies.

DCI Members of the National Military Information Disclosure Policy Committee (NDPC) continue to participate actively in the work of the Committee. For the past few months, the revision of NDPC-1, "National Policy and Procedures for the Disclosure of Classified Military Information to Foreign Governments and International Organizations," has been underway which, upon completion, will streamline the Committee's operations and ensure tighter control over the release of classified military information.
